

Babies at Work: Bringing New Life to the Workplace

Written by Carla Moquin, the author of How to Start a Babies-at-Work Program and the founder and president of the Parenting in the Workplace Institute, Babies at Work: Bringing New Life to the Workplace presents a vivid picture of the transformation that occurs when babies can come to work with their parents for the first several months of life. Babies at Work explains why well-structured baby programs are highly effective and describes the dramatic benefits that more than 1,400 babies have brought to more than 120 organizations to date. Babies at Work combines baby development principles with the experiences of executives, managers, coworkers, and parents and offers a viable, minimal-cost solution to difficulties faced by millions of new parents around the world. Ms. Moquin is the president of the Parenting in the Workplace Institute in Framingham, Massachusetts. She has been studying babies-at-work programs since 2005. She has been interviewed for numerous media pieces on babies in the workplace, including articles in the New York Times, People Magazine, Time Magazine, Workforce Management, USA Today and the Boston Globe. She also appeared in pieces on the Today Show, NBC Nightly News, Fox Business Network, and Fantastico in Brazil, as well as in numerous international articles, including publications in Australia, Hungary, Denmark, India, Canada, the United Kingdom, Ireland, and Denmark.
