

Chemistry, As Exemplifying the Wisdom and Beneficence of God (Classic Reprint)

In the year 1838, Mrs. Hannah A cton, widow of the late Samuel A cton, Esq., of Euston Square, from motives of respect and regard for the memory of her deceased husband, and in order to carry into effect his desire and intention, caused an investment to be made of the sum ofO neT thousand Pounds in the three per cent. Consol. Bank A nnuities, in the names of the trustees of the Royal Institution of Great Britain, the interest of which was to be devoted to the formation of a fund, out of which the sum ofO ne Hundred Guineas was to be paid septennially, as a reward or prize to the person, who, in the judgment of the committee of managers for the time being of-the I nstitution, should have been the author of the best essay illustrative of the wisdom and beneficence of the A lmighty, in such department of science as the committee of managers should, in their discretion, have selected the form and conditions of the essay being also, in a great measure, left to the choice of that body.(Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and dont occur in the book.)About the Publisher Forgotten Books is a publisher of historical writings, such as: Philosophy, Classics, Science, Religion, History, Folklore and Mythology.Forgotten Books Classic Reprint Series utilizes the latest technology to regenerate facsimiles of historically important writings.
