

Good Old Age: Letters to Seniors

Personal letters with a message from the Bible for seniors. It is good to be a senior and you need to know how valuable you are. After all, you can give us direction and advice, empathize with us, and listen to our stories. You may have more time than before to pray, think, and read. You might be available for a good talk with a relative or friend. Seriously, we need you in our society, our families and our churches. In this little devotional book we will take a look at your great responsibilities, but will also consider the loneliness and misery you may be experiencing. People with your experience of all the joys and sorrows you may have gone through, however, could be wonderful examples of patience and faith.
