PROVERBS AND MAXIMS. No. 2. EDUCATION MAKES THE MAN. As on paper thats blank we can write what we please, So the mind of a child may be fashioned with ease; By proper instruction be taught right and good,--His mind thereby strengthened, as his body by food. Without Education man lives a low life, Is swayed by his selfishness, passion, and strife, As savage and brutal as wild beasts of the glade, And unfit for society, friendship, or aid. The most laudable ambition is to be wise, and the greatest wisdom is to be good. The conquest of evil habits is the most glorious triumph. He who gives way to anger, punishes himself for the fault of another. He who thinks only of serving himself, is the slave of a slave. If you will not take pains, pains will take you. Where there is a will, there is a way. It is good to begin well, but better to end well. Haste makes waste, and waste makes want. Not he that has little, but he that wants much, is poor. Of all poverty that of the mind is the most deplorable. Noise and talk without rule, shows who is a fool. He that cannot hold his peace will never live at ease. If each one would mend one, all would have their work done. Evil communications corrupt good manners. Good books are a guide to youth, and a comfort to old age. An honest mind makes a pleasant face. Our minds must be cultivated as well as our plants. A liar is seldom believed, even when he speaks the truth. Every sin brings its punishment along with it. Good Education is the foundation of mans happiness.
